MIXTURA PARA TERCIANAS
DE JAYNE,
A CERTAIN AND EFFECTUAL REMEDY
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, &c.

This class of diseases, so common in all parts of the world, and specially prevalent in malarious districts and vicinage of water courses are almost invariably accompanied by more or less derangement of the liver, and frequently by a defective action of the digestive organs.

The mere breaking of the Chill is but a step towards completing a radical cure. The various organs of the body, especially the stomach and liver, must be brought to a healthy and vigorous condition before a permanent cure can be established, and this fact has been specially kept in view by Dr. Jayne in his treatment of these complaints. The use of Jayne's Ague Mixture in conjunction with the Sanative Pills, as prescribed in the directions which accompany each bottle, will not only

Break up the Chills,

But restore the system more particularly the liver and stomach, to a sound condition, and so prevent a relapse of Fever and Ague, by thoroughly

Eradicating the Dissase,

And the best evidence of this is the invariable success which has always followed the administration of these remedies, as attested by the certificates published annually in Dr. Jayne's Almanac, and the wide-spread popularity of the Ague Mixture in those districts of the United States, where the diseases, for which it is adapted, most prevail.

All Dr. D. Jayne's Family Medicines are prepared only at 242 Chestnut-street, Philadelphia, and are sold by Druggists everywhere.

It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband the small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA receives Deposits of from Five Patacones per Annum up to any amount in Weekly, Monthly, or Yearly Instalments.

THE ORIENTAL LOAN.

It rests with the Government of the Uruguayan Republic whether the Oriental Loan negotiated last month on the London market prove a blessing or curse to Montevideo. Animated with the most friendly sentiments towards the Banda Oriental, we feel it our duty to call the attention of the people of Montevideo to the extremely slippery footing of Oriental credit abroad at the present moment, and the urgent necessity of turning over a new leaf at once; else to their astonishment and chagrin they may discover at no distant date that the golden visions of this loan will prove, like "dead sea fruit" before even the bonds are signed.

We give in another column a communication received yesterday from Montevideo on the subject of the rupture of diplomatic relations between England and the Banda Oriental. Although not coinciding with the writer in his views, we feel bound to publish the letter, as in a matter of such importance both sides of the question should be heard; but since our correspondent has forced the matter on public notice previous to the publication of the notes exchanged between the two Governments, it is right to observe that the conduct of the British Chargé d'Affaires is fully approved of by the foreign public of the River Plate.

We who are acquainted with the multitude of British claims pending, mast of which have been published in our columns, confess surprise that this rupture did not long since take place. Notes after notes, interviews after interviews, demands after demands, all have failed to awaken the Montevidean Government to the necessity of amicably adjusting claims which, if we recollect aright, stretch over a quarter of a century. It may be that we write in ignorance of the real merits of the case, and that President Batlle is preparing some explanation to set himself right before the public, but in the absence of any such document, if the public is called to decide the matter the verdict beyond all question must be against the Montevidean Government.

The present critical position of the country is urged as an excuse for the conduct of the Government, and the plea to a certain extent is a good one. But why does the Government tolerate that position? Why is not peace made with the Blancos, since it appears hopeless to completely stamp them out? Let any man read the programme of the Government Commissioner published in London inviting subscriptions to the Loan and say how far he can indorse the statements therein certained. The immigration to the Banda Oriental, we are told, is 30,000 per annum! But let us give the Commissioner's own words:—

"The present year shows an amount of unusual prosperity throughout the State. All native produce has risen considerably in value, thus improving materially the position of sheep and cattle farmers; the tide of immigration, for a short time slackened by the civil war, is again flowing steadily, as shown by the statistics of the Immigration Commissioners, and the number of new buildings and other undertakings being erected, both in Montevideo and the provinces, is unprecedentedly large.

"Public opinion in this country is strongly declared against any renewal of political disturbances, and there is every reason to hope that the civil war, which has been virtually terminated by the complete defeat of the rebel forces, will not be renewed; and that, as in Chili and the adjoining Argentine Republic, the period of fruitless revolutions will entirely disappear, and be succeeded by one of peace, order, and settled government."

Peace, order, and settled government in Montevideo!! We fear, indeed, 'tis but a dream. The animosity of parties is such that, if left to themselves, the war will last for the next generation. Intervention—and an armed intervention—is the only possible solution; for the Blancos hold the camp, and the Colorados the town; and thus the game goes on.

Yet this is the country that has just raised a loan of three and a half millions sterling in London! At first sight the thing seems preposterous, but we have sufficient evidence before us to convince us that the loan is a fact. The loan has been made, and made on fair and reasonable and honourable terms. Nevertheless the probabilities are that not even the first instalment will reach Montevideo if the Government awakens not to the necessity of setting itself right before the British public. The claims of the British Government, whatever they are, could at least have been referred to a mixed commission for adjustment; and as regards the civil war, influential men of both parties should be named to try and arrive at terms; failing this, intervention must be demanded.

If President Batlle thinks that with diplomatic relations broken off and the country in a perpetual state of revolution, marching to headlong ruin, British capitalists will pay up the calls on the loan and send over two millions into such a country, he will not have to live long before he discovers his error. To avail of its good luck in launching the loan, the Government should retrace its steps, invite Mr. McDonnell to a reconsideration of his note, offer an honourable arrangement of these long pending claims either by way of reference, or a court of claims, and, above all things, make peace at any cost with the Blancos.

If these or some such steps are not taken, and at once, then the new Oriental loan in the London market will be regarded as a dead letter.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

November 21.

The excitement visible in Montevideo during Sunday, owing to the great festivities then going on to celebrate the anniversary of "Rome the capital of Italy," was further increased yesterday at an early hour by the arrival per Sindh of the news that the Oriental loan had been brought out in the London market with perfect success, and at the date of the latest telegrams was at 2 per cent. prem. The news spread like wildfire, and it was somewhat curious to see the faces and study the variety of expression visible in the features of Bears and Bulls. It was expected that a good many speculators on our Bolsa would come to grief, but so far we believe that all have met their obligations satisfactorily, at least we have not heard any party mentioned as a defaulter as yet, but as our line of business brings us very little into connection with the 'toreros' of the Bolsa ring, we do not pretend to be 'fully up' in all that passes in the midst of the crowd of money brokers who infest the vast edifice in Calle Zavala. As far as regards our countrymen who pursue their calling of brokers on the Bolsa, we heard it stated at the club last night that one who is reported to have once been a contributor to your paper from a neighbouring capital, and another descended from a race of kings—'ex atavis edite regibus,' once monarchs of the Emerald Isle, were both stationed on the right side of the hedge when the loan as a thunder-clap burst upon the astonished community yesterday. Notwithstanding the reliable evidence contained both in the English papers and in private telegrams that the loan was done, the number of St. Thomases was legion—they would not believe it, and swore it to be impossible. At half-past ten your correspondent and three other parties had received their telegrams confirming the news, and yet at noon there were several persons who in the face of everything refused to believe; but the sudden fall of gold from Saturday's quotation, 10⅝ to 7 per cent., soon brought them round to a conviction. The holders of Bonds of the Empresitto Montevideano have the option of changing their titles—bond for bond—for those of the new loan, thus gaining 1½ per cent. in the amount set apart for annual amortization. The loan is to be applied, with the exception of £100,000 for the building of a proper custom-house, to the extinction of sundry small floating debts, some claims, and the amortization of the paper money now circulating under guarantee of the nation.

What an era of prosperity and of happiness might now dawn upon this unfortunate country, if her sons—or if the inhabitants of the Republic generally—fully comprehended the triumph gained by the negotiation of this loan, the advantages to be derived from the funds it brings into the country, and the stimulus to trade and enterprise which it will produce. If all those who reside in the country could understand these things, and would all—natives and foreigners—bring pressure to bear upon the leaders of both factions, who hold in their hands the destinies of the nation, and endeavor to bring about a conclusion of the wretched civil war which still drags its slow length along, we might then feel sure that better times were coming, and that the loan would prove a blessing for all of us. But if the civil war is to continue, and as a natural consequence the millions now raised in London are to to be spent in cutting throats, buying arms, and filling the pockets of a herd of bandits who are enriching themselves at the cost of the ruin of the nation, then this loan is the greatest misfortune that could have befallen the country; instead of a blessing to us, it will prove a curse, and after all is spent the Republic will be in a far worse state than if the business had never been done. The course of events has, you see, fully borne out the information which I have sent you from time to time in private letters, and will serve to show you that your correspondent is always on the 'qui vive,' and has also opportunities of knowing what is going on behind the scenes everywhere.

The Italian festivities have been on a magnificent scale; the Calle 18 de Julio was illuminated all the way from the entrance to the old market up to the Calle del Queguay; over the entrance to the old market, at the end of Calle Sarandi, was a large transparent screen, with various inscriptions dedicated to the Oriental nation, and a shield commemorating the day of the promulgation of the Italian Constitution; at the other entrance of the old market, facing the Calle 18 de Julio, was set up the platform for the fireworks, the grand centre piece representing the front of St. Peter's Church at Rome, which, when lighted, had a beautiful effect. All along the Calle 18 de Julio was decorated with numerous flags, and under these were 100 shields, representing the 100 cities of Italy now united under the tricolor flag. In the Plaza Independencia were two lofty Egyptian obelisks each one surmounted by a large gas-light star, representing the 'Stella d'Italia.' Between the Calles Rio Negro and Queguay was erected a beautiful arch in imitation of the famous one of Titus Vespasian; this was beautifully illuminated, and gave to the view of the Calle 18 de Julio a charming effect. Two bands of music played in turns from one o'clock in the afternoon till late at night. The fireworks were beautiful, and did great credit to the manufacturers, Sres. Moltedo and Derrosa.

The sereno who inflicted on Mr. McDermitt the wounds which subsequently caused his death has been handed over to the Juez del Crimen for prosecution.

To-day there has been a tremendous stir on the Bolsa, and it is said that there are some half dozen defaulters.

PROFESSOR GOULD'S SPEECH.

It is with great pleasure, gentlemen, that I find myself here this evening, and permitted not only to join with you in the welcome to our distinguished guest, but also to share the satisfaction which, as an Argentine citizen and the second magistrate of the republic, he cannot fail to experience in witnessing the wonderful success of the great national undertaking to which we owe the honor of his visit.

The series of festivities which our Vice-President has come to grace with his presence and his sympathy, and which afford him such a just source of patriotic pride, must remain memorable for long years in the history of the republic. It is a fitting harbinger of the new era of peace, which comes crowned with prosperity and plenty. Amid the echoes of our shouts of joy we hear no orphan's sobs; amid the demonstrations of our rejoicing we see no widow's tears.

I should scarcely know how to speak, even were it in my native tongue; nor indeed whether to address you as a stranger who is admiring the splendid display of the exuberant wealth of this country, so favored by nature in the riches of its climate, its vegetation, and its mineral resources—or as a Cordobese, who looks with natural pride upon the scene, and joins in welcoming to our provincial capital the throng of eminent citizens who have come up not only from the emporium of the nation, but from the shores of the Atlantic, from the skirts of the Andes, from the torrid North, from the broad and fertile plains beyond the Sierra, and from the vast expanse of the boundless Pampas, to join in this high festival of the nation. As a stranger, I cannot and would not speak; as a native, I may not. But as one whose heart and hopes and aspirations are with you, I may join in the jubilee, and may exult in the proof, which the occasion affords, of the magnificent and almost uplimited capacities of this wondrous land.

Of almost all those products which have given wealth or importance to other nations, the Argentine Republic is now shown to possess a rich luxuriance. Precious metals wait below the surface to recompense the miner's toil; precious woods flourish above the soil to reward the enterprise which shall collect them; the indigo and rice of India, the tea, silk and porcelain of China, the fruits and wines of Southern and Central Europe, the cotton and petroleum of the United States, the coffee of Java and Brazil, the flocks and herds of pastoral lands, the grain and corn of agricultural countries, all are among the abundant gifts of Providence to this favored nation, which, stretching from the mountains to the sea, includes alize the tropic magnificence of Salta, and the chilly shores of Patagonia. Nor are the evidences wanting of native skill and ingenuity of perseverance and industry.

The new era has arrived. It is already here! Already the shrill whistle of the locomotive scares the lion from his den and the ostrich from her nest; the paddles of the steamboat frighten the tiger from his jungle, the telegraph is flashing its message with lightning speed from province to province, and the communication which yesterday required weeks, or even months, today only requires seconds! A few months, or perhaps weeks, and the electric wires here, as in your sister nation of the north, will span the continent. The newest and most refined resources of science and art you have already summoned to your aid; and where the railway and telegraph have not yet come, bridges are springing into existence to span the rivers, and roads are destroying for evermore those obstacles which have hitherto existed since the creation to impede traffic, obstruct intercouse, and prevent national unity. More than all, schools are being scattered broadcast over the land, and colleges established in every province, and the National University endowed with the means of wider usefulness. No Argentine youth can say hereafter that his early aspirations were thwarted for the want of means of education. Blessings through all future years await the liberal administrations which have conferred such gifts upon the people; and if this generation shall avail itself of its opportunity, generations to come shall hallow its memory.

"Magnus ab integro sæclorum nascitur ordo,
Jam redit et Virgo, redeunt Saturnia regna;
Jam nova progenies cœlo demittitur alto."

Permit me, Mr. Vice-President, to offer you the congratulations which spring from my heart, while I join in the sincere expression of welcome to our ancient city. A people which can display such sources of national prosperity, which is making such efforts to extend the influences of civilization, the blessings of freedom, and the priceless advantages of education, is assuredly entitled to look forward to a glorious future.

IMMIGRATION.

It is with a feeling of sincere thankfulness to Mr. Dick that I read his discussion of my project of colonization. Though I do not altogether agree with his ideas, I consider it nevertheless a necessity that affairs be discussed publicly which are of such vital importance to the country.

I begin by saying that up to the present I have had four different offers for the colonization of a large piece of ground, in agreement with the conditions laid down in the pamphlet I published on the subject. By this it would appear as if the owners of the ground were satisfied with the securities offered: and I cannot see how that security would be better if, in my place, a society were placed at the head.

The greatest difficulty is, undoubtedly, to get immigrants who pay for the land: but for this it is highly indifferent whether a company take the lead or I do. The realization of the colonizing depends only upon the capacity of the agent; if that is wanting a happy result will not be reached.

If Mr. Dick means that the greater part of the German immigrants will be very slow to deal with me on the base of the conditions laid down in my pamphlet, I am very sorry to say I cannot agree with him, having already, in the year 1863, had the experience how my propositions found a good acceptance in Germany. What sounder base does a company offer to my countrymen? A man who dedicates all his time and all his labour to this one purpose can and will do more than a company whose different individuals, besides this one purpose, have different affairs of their own to attend to.

Does Mr. Dick believe that a company will sound better to my simple countrymen than the name of a man well known since the year 1863; as the names of the persons constituting that company, no matter how well known and well respected they may be here, will never have been heard of in Germany? I think not.

The swindling done by different persons in the emigration business is as well and better known on the other side of the ocean than here, and people there do not give their confidence except to persons well known.

Respecting the security offered to the seller, I think it is perfectly satisfactory. The land remains his own until the last dollar is paid up. Does he want to be extra careful: then he may leave the wiring in up to the time the colonist arrives; but the surveying must be done at once, so that when the colonist arrives he finds the land ready for his labour. And can any one pretend that this business should be without any risk whatsoever, when there is no other business in South America without it?

Respecting the Sociedad Rural, it has always been my intention to put my project of colonization under their control; as likewise in due form I shall ask the supervision and protection of the representatives of my country. I am, moreover, at present occupied on a little work about the country, especially in reference to colonization, which, before printing, I shall present for the approval of the above mentioned authorities; and, provided with these 'visas,' I shall place it at the disposition of the emigrant.

As in all my affairs, so in this I hate and avoid all secrecy, and will be very glad to have the supervision of the public for my project of colonization. I very frankly, therefore, ask Mr. Dick to again examine my propositions, and feel worried only that my want of a sound knowledge of the English language prevents me from seeing him personally and conversing with him; and this so much more as his severe criticism on the present inconsiderate system of colonization proves the deep interest he takes in the good of the colonist and of the country.

A. H. GRIEBEN.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

One of the most extraordinary events of the day is the great bridge inauguration at Barracas. This wonderful bridge, after a lapse of say four years, during which most of the engineering talent of South America was brought to bear on it, was finally opened to public traffic on last Monday. There was no Governor to stand on it at mid-day, to make grand speeches or inaugurate it in the regular way; no clocks striking the hour, nor moon rising behind the old church tower; but without even the firing of a rocket the bridge was thrown open. Two Germans were posted to collect the tolls; all went on smilingly until the first bullock cart came up, when 'sauve! down went the wheels of the bullock cart through the bridge. How the unfortunate 'tropero' ever got up this deponent cannot say; but the bridge is smashed up, and for the present utterly useless to the public.

The correspondence by the French mail steamer Savoie was delivered yesterday morning. The tone of private communications respecting the markets for River Plate produce is satisfactory, though the excitement recently prevailing has vanished. Sir Rhoderick Murchison, President of the Royal Geographical Society of London, died in that city on the 23rd ult. The Pope had sent a special Envoy to the Emperor of Germany to know if he had any objection that a Conclave of the Sacred College be held in some French city. The Kaiser referred the Ambassador to Prince Bismarck, who "did not say 'no,' but would not say 'yes,'" and the prelate returned to Rome with an autograph letter of sympathy from the Emperor William to His Holiness. The King of Italy was expected to take up a permanent residence at the Quirinal in the first week of this month. The French troops are carrying all before them in Algiers.

When the Neva arrived at Lisbon on her last homeward trip, the passengers held a meeting, and presented an address couched in the most complimentary terms to the Captain and officers of that splendid steamship, acknowledging the skill and courtesy to the passengers manifested by them during the passage home, and the unsurpassed qualities of their vessel.

We remind the public of this city that Sr. Rossi takes his benefit at the Colon Theatre this evening in Shakespeare's tragedy of Hamlet. This is the last occasion on which Sr. Rossi will appear in this play in Buenos Ayres. Macbeth and the Merchant of Venice will be produced very shortly.

The Commissioners appointed to settle the Alabama and other claims arising out of the American civil war, held their first meeting at Washington on September 26. After the usual civilities had been exchanged, Count Corti was chosen to preside at the future meetings of the Commission. On the following day Mr. Cox, a clerk in the United States State Department, was appointed secretary, and a draft form of rules and regulations for the transaction of business was agreed to. The Commissioners then adjourned until November 14, to allow time for the claimants to present the memorials and comply with the other provisions laid down in the rules.

In reference to the Irish Home Rule a London colleague says:—"A committee has been formed in London to urge on this movement, through the machinery of the various Irish organisations already existing in the metropolis, by forming London into districts and sub-districts. Meetings are to be held in all these districts, at which the district and branch committees are to be elected, and each committee will elect one or more delegates to sit on the central committee. The Home Rule leaders in Ireland have done all in their power to encourage this London movement, and it is intended, as soon as the organisation is complete, to convene mass meetings of the Irish residents in the metropolis to demonstrate in favour of the Home Rule."

The North Americans are generally people of excessive susceptibility, and the greatest proof of this and of their great national humor is supplied by a 'delicate way of putting it' which their press have invented for cases when fatal occurrences have to be published. The following are from various U. S. papers—

"John Smith, in Nebraska, said he could handle a rattlesnake the same as any snake charmer. The churlishness of the undertaker in asking his pay in advance delayed the funeral for four days." "A man in New Jersey could'nt wait for the cars to reach the depot, and jumped off. His widow sued the insurance company." "A man warned his wife in New Orleans not to light the fire with kerosene. Her clothes fit his second wife remarkably well."

The Assembly of the Province of Rio de Janeiro has passed a law making it obligatory on parents and guardians to send the children, of either sex, in their charge to public schools, from the age of seven to fourteen.

The Municipality of Flores have given their assent to the laying down of another line of tramway from the city to that suburb, to run along Calles Europa and Independencia, which run into one street near Flores. The Provincial Government will now grant the concession to Messrs. Gowland & Co., who applied for it some time ago. The new line will open up communication between the south end of the city and Flores, and must give greatly increased value to property along the route.

Some of our colleagues appear uneasy lest the renewed flow of immigration from the Old World bring us the germ of the cholera now raging in so many parts of Europe. The Republica of yesterday contained a sensible letter on the subject. The utmost vigilance on the part of the Port authorities is necessary; it is the only thing that can ward off danger. As for the condition of the city to receive any imported disease, it may be said that it is more favourable for such a terrible contingency than ever, as the year has passed away without the smallest practical effort to clean it. We have had enough, and to spare of talking, writing, decreeing, etc., but disease has no respect for such. The scandalous neglect of the Montevidean authorities in permitting a number of Italians suffering from small pox to land there last week, and walk about the town, must not be repeated here. We have really nothing to depend on but the vigilance of the Port authorities, and our colleagues but do their duty in demanding the utmost precautions.

If the latest reports be true, the Reds in the Banda Oriental are getting wearied of the war. General Borges has thrown up his command, and is now in Paysandu with his staff. Colonel Coronado has disbanded his division, which was remarkable for good 'marching' qualities, and is now doing Cincinnatus on his estancia. The remnant of the Army of the North is said to be now commanded by a Major. The Siglo of the sister city reports confusion as reigning everywhere in the camp.

The Council of Health have issued a warning to the Municipality respecting the sale of unripe fruit and half grown vegetables, of which quantities are coming to market, and which have already caused bowel diseases suspiciously like cholera.

Letters from Oran state that the patients in the hospital there had a narrow escape during the recent earthquake. The last of them had scarcely been carried out and placed in safety under an orange tree when the shock occurred that destroyed the town. Numerous other miraculous escapes are also recounted.

The latest papers from Paraguay make no mention of the labors (if any) of the Allied plenipotentiaries. Dr. Quintana, we regret to say is still reported ill. Of general news there is not a word likely to interest our readers. An Asuncion colleague sums up the situation in the globular statement that "the moments Paraguay is now passing are supreme." We heard the same thing about Montevideo yesterday, but the sister city has for the present emerged from the supreme impecuniosity still afflicting poor Paraguay.

A Cordoba friend informs us that the Sierra Hotel is proving a wonderful success. Half the people who arrive in the city go to inhale the mountain breezes at the new hotel, and give the Exhibition the go bye.

The annual slaughter of the dogs of the city, by strichnine, is about to commence, so humble parties whose children make the public street their playground, should keep a sharp look-out, lest a tempting strichnine sandwich reduce the number of their olive branches.

The threatened tax on the city tramways has given great umbrage to the public, who already see the price of a 'set down' doubled, while shareholders dread microscopic dividends. The measure is so palpably impolitic and uncalled-for, that it is difficult to believe the Senate, before which house the Budget now is, can sanction it.

The Rio papers announce that on Sunday, the 29th of October, the inauguration of a section of the Nitheroy omnibus tramway took place in the presence of H.S.H. the Princess Regent, H.H. the Comte d'Eu, the Ministers of Agriculture and Foreign Affairs, the President of the Province, and many other persons of distinction. After an excursion along the line, the distinguished party entered the chapel of the Santa Leopoldina Asylum, and there, in sequence to addresses from Dr. Nunez Alvarez and Sr. J. F. Russel, H.S.H. the Regent delivered letters of manumission to twenty children. The festival wound up with a splendid lunch.

There is an ugly rumour afloat respecting a 'little bill' presented to an illustrious personage on his departure from Rosario lately. The 'cuentita' was for a breakfast, to which the distinguished visitor was under the impression he had been invited; but the 'restaurateur' had such uncomfortable notions respecting being paid that he is said to have resorted to the extreme measure referred to. The matter is being 'arranged.'

The Government has approved of the Belgrano station on the Northern Railway line being removed to a new site, in accordance with an agreement made between the Municipality of that town and the company.

We understand that it is doubtful whether Mr. Wheelwright will come out in the next packet, but his non-arrival will not interfere with the prosecution of the works on the Ensenada Railway, most of the materials for which have arrived, or are on the way.

A petition has been presented to the National Government, praying the revocation of the decree closing the shipyards on the Tigre. It is signed by nearly all the inhabitants of the place, and shows how unpopular the decree in question is. If not reconsidered, the ediet will cause irreparable losses to many private parties.

It is proposed to turn Plazas Victoria and Mayo into gay and attractive promenades by adorning them with statues, fountains, gravel walks, etc., the cost to be defrayed by subscriptions from the householders, and a gift from the Municipality.

Public baths are about to be erected on the river bank at San Fernando.

We understand that the Municipality intend to fine rigorously all who have not complied with the recent ediet to whitewash their houses inside and outside. The time allowed for such operation expires in a week, so landlords must look alive if they wish to save their pockets.

The second appearance of Pepper's Ghost, at the Colliseum, on Tuesday night, was well attended, and everything went off 'á merveille.' On Saturday a performance in aid of the Chicago Relief Fund will be given.

A subscriber in Tandil writes us:—"The English colony at Macedonia are busy shearing, and a good clip is looked for. Maize and potatoes are almost all planted, only a few backward neighbours have yet to sow. Within the last years there is a general desire to engage in agriculture, but with the improvement in sheep interests, those who preferred the easy life have now the laugh at their more energetic neighbours. The crop looks so badly that some have actually ploughed it up, and sown maize, but unless a copious downpour of rain comes very soon this must likewise fail. A few lots of wool sold last week at $60 m/c., the highest price obtained here during the last six years. Last Tuesday Mr. McLoughlin passed here for Bahia Blanca. He was quite alone. His companion having taken sick was obliged to return to B. Ayres before he got half way out. Two days after Mr. Moore passed bound for the same distant place. He goes by another road touching at Azul. This speakes highly for the quietness of the Southern frontier, or else the indomitable pluck of our countrymen." We are strongly inclined to think it is the latter.

The Princess Regent of Brazil has conferred the Order of the Rose on Sr. Dn. A. Vasquez y Munilla, Ayudante de Puerto at Montevideo, for his bravery in recently saving the lives of some sailors of the Brazilian squadron lying at that port.

Our colleague El Nacional, in its issue of Tuesday, attributes to us an error of which we were not guilty, in stating that Sr. Estanislao del Campo, whose gaucho poems have lately met with favorable criticism in England, was claimed by us as being of Irish extraction. We are better up in 'Who's Who' than to make such a palpable blunder. Mr. del Campo is as undeniably Scotch as the respected Governor of the Province, being descended from a junior branch of the Campbells of Inverary, the head of which house is the present Duke of Argyll.

THE LORD DEFEND US FROM OUR FRIENDS".

The STANDARD, with the laudable intention of helping to float a new institution called "Empresas de puestos medicos," says: "in a country where the faculty estimate their services at such a very high figure, such a company (that of the puestos medicos) should meet with general support." This is the third or fourth time the STANDARD has opened fire on the medical faculty while recommending the above company.

The diplomas of doctors of medicine or pharmacy, of law or theology have ever been a sort of licensed targets; that the STANDARD should keep in fashion and occasionally open fire on these targets is not at all astonishing, but it is certainly surprising to hear the editors of the STANDARD affirm that the medical faculty of this city estimate their services at a very high figure. All the gentlemen at present editing the STANDARD cannot but be aware that the fees charged in Dublin are three times those charged in Buenos Ayres; the medical faculty of Dublin are not only three times better paid but are ten times more respected, and can live as gentlemen should live on half what it costs a doctor in Buenos Ayres to live.

What I say of Dublin is applicable to any city in the United Kingdom; bearing this in mind, the broadside fired by the STANDARD with double shotted guns is really inexplicable. The new Company it appears cannot float without a shot at the doctors, and yet it will have to depend on these very doctors for its existence which, in my opinion, will be shorter than that of the kindred institution on Calle Bolivar hill.

We cry out against the doctors' high fees and yet we are called on to support a third party acting between the doctor and his patient. I don't suppose the new company intend working for the honour and glory of the thing, ergo, it is a commercial speculation. Is it the doctors or the public that are doomed to pay the piper? For the last three months subscriptions have been collected from those who were candid enough to swallow the bait; this bait, the first monthful, cost sixty dollars; in proof of their having swallowed said bait they got a certificate dignified with the name of diploma, and a scrap of paper doing the duty of receipt; in the course of events some of the unfortunate holder of these documents fell sick and, lo and behold! the certificate of membership illegally called diploma did duty for the doctor, who, immediately prescribed a dose of those scraps of paper called receipts.

This is the amount of benefit derived, so far, from the new Company by some if not all its subscribers.

The Sanatorium in Calle Bolivar, although established on a basis that can bear no comparison to the Empresa de puestos medicos broke down as all such establishments based on purely commercial speculation must break down until the population of Buenos Ayres is double or treble that of its present figure. Take into calculation the poor of this city and you will find that it is abundantly supplied with hospitals based on charitable principles. Besides these hospitals, the medical faculty of Buenos Ayres, as a body, are noted to be as charitable as any body of medical men in any part of the world; there may be some black sheep in the flock, but they are so few as to be indiscernible in that much abushed phalanx of philanthropists.

On any unusual increase of sickness the Government and the inhabitants are always ready and never tardy to assist the poor. Where charity abounds to such an extent it is not surprising that commercial hospitals cannot gain footing, unless indeed it can be proved that such institutions as the "Empresa de puestos medicos" are intended for the rich or the comfortable class of inhabitants; no person will attempt to prove this, for any person in comfortable circumstances will have his own favourite doctor, and he who pays his doctor's bill without any reluctant grumbling will, in the evening of his life, find himself a gainer. Doctors sometimes pay the most diligent attention to their patients, watch over them with the anxiety of a father, steal many hours frsm their natural rest, breakfast and dine as if afraid to lose the train, and all for what? to be abused, criticised and ridiculed by many of those whom they have wrestled from the grave.

DICK.

ENGLAND AND BANDA ORIENTAL.

M. Video, Nov. 20, 1871.

To the Editors of the STANDARD.

Gentlemen,

Others than myself will have seen with uneasiness the rupture of diplomatic relations between the British and Oriental Governments.

For the last four years business here has hardly been but one series of disasters, and trade with sales in paper money, a species of most hazardous gambling; the forthcoming season, however, through the high prices of wool and the realization of the loan in London, seems to promise us an abundance of money, and the redemption of our paper, and consequently a season of trade that might in some degree compensate us for past bad times; but should serious complications arise between this and the British Government, and trade suffer, it is possible that the latter may bring upon others of its subjects a loss far exceeding that for which it is seeking an indemnity.

It is difficult to understand the benefit that can result from the suspension of diplomatic relations; one would think that the protection afforded by the agents of the Government if not at all times very effectual was still better than none, and though, under urgent circumstances, the Minister might not obtain the entirety of his demands, the situation was still preferable to one in which he can make none with dignity unless backed by force.

In this latter case, however, that of proceeding to extremities; it would hardly appear worthy of the good sense of a Mercantile Ministry to seek to repair the loss of one portion of its countrymen, by inflicting a still greater upon others; one might also expect a little consideration for the subjects of other friendly powers unless it were decided upon sacrificing its own.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obdt. servt.,
C. N. H.

ORAN.

B. Ayres, Nov. 20th, 1871.

To the Editors of the STANDARD.

Gentlemen,

As you appear to have great trouble in discovering in what part of the 'terrestial globe,' the city of Oran (Argentine Republic) is situated allow me, if you have no objection, to give you little more or less (for I will not vouch for a mile) the geographical position of that unfortunate place:—

It is situated 22 deg. 26 min. and 25 sec. of south latitude, by 62 deg. 28 min. longitude west of Greenwich, near the source of the Vermejo River, in the N.E. part of the Province of Salta, and in the centre of a portion of territory intervening between the Gran Chaco on the East and the Province of Jujuy on the West. The above is the geographical situation of Oran, that is, if it has not been moved by the earthquake to some other continent, which would be as great a phenomenon as, for us to awake some morning and find ourselves and Buenos Ayres on the 'old sod' itself. A very desirable thing if we were landed there safe and sound—passage gratis.

It seems a very curious thing to me that the second city of one of our provinces should be quite 'desconocido' in cultivated Buenos Ayres; that the efforts made by its inhabitants for the progress of the Upper Provinces, for it may truly be said that Oran was marching towards civilization with gigantic strides, its important commerce with Bolivia and all the surrounding Argentine cities and towns, and its nine thousand inhabitants, should actually exist in the Republic, and pass away, as they lived..... unknown, is a question for philophers to study. Surely the Government must have known something about it!

Hoping you will excuse me for taking up so much of your time,

I remain,
QUEVEDO.

ON 'CHANGE.

Nov. 22, 1871.

Ounces,	400
Sovereigns,	122½

National Bonds,	71¼

There was but a sligat reaction in the bond market to-day, caused chiefly by one or two well known speculators offering to sell heavily for the end of the month and year. Yesterday had these bonds been offered they would have probably found buyers, but to-day the market was too flat for such large operations, and even at reduced rates the bonds could not be sold. Much of the weakness in the market was attributed to the circumstance that a well known broker who came up to-day from Montevideo stated that a very large portion of the commercial community in Montevideo discredited the news of the successful placing of the whole of the Oriental loan, alleging that the telegrams at hand merely announced its launching, but that there was nothing whatever to show that the amount was taken up by bona fide subscribers. This news at once depressed the bond market, and many who bought yesterday sold out to-day. The arrival of the Chilian steamer is looked for anxiously—she is due to-morrow. The bond sales to-day were as follows—For cash nothing. For Nov, 30 5,000 at 71¼. For Dec. 31st 42,000, opening at 72¼ and closing at 72. For June 30th 10,000 at 73. For Dec. 31st 10,000 at 72.

Exchange was done to-day pretty freely at 51½, payable on Saturday, and 51¾ payable on 2nd December. The rates on France are uncertain; bills, were passed to-day at 5.60 and 5.65.

The commercial advices fro : Brazil, per Sindh, are important. The Apolices, which are the same class of securities as our National Bonds, have risen to par. These apolices last year were about at the same quotation as National Bonds to-day; but such is the immense plethora of capital to-day in Brazil and the great confidence in the Rio Branco Administration that securities of every description in Rio have risen from 10 to 25 per cent.

The telegram from Montevideo gave the following:—

Santa Catalina, Mentor.
Portland, Tatay.
Sunderland, Leopold Graf von Sinberg.
Paper, 5¼.
Maua bonds, 96.
Tallow, 20.
A cargo of Pernambuco sugar sold at 31, 29, 27 and 23.

Advices from the west report a very splendid wheat crop, particularly in the district of 25 de Mayo. Contracts for the new wheat are being made at 70. Very large quantities of wool in that direction have been bought up, but at low prices. The wool is now coming into market, and sells at fair rates.

The steamboat boiler makers and others engaged in business at the Tigre are about to present a petition to President Sarmiento to rescind the Government decree against repairing vessels there.

There is much said about the ruinously low fares of the steamers now running to Rosario; a competition that produces this is a direct injury to trade, and ultimately an inconvenience to the public. It is to be hoped that the steamboat proprietors themselves will make some arrangements before further losses are entailed.

The Municipality of Flores has approved of the government concession for a tramway in Calle Independencia out to Flores. The company for the building of this line will, we understand, be formed in this market. Mr. Mendez has called a meeting of shareholders of his tramway company previous to his departure for Europe to sell his line.

At the Alpaca auction to-day by Mr. Nazar the prices ranged from $300 to 350 m|c. each animal, and the highest the capones were sold at was $700 m|c.

The settlers of Bahia Blanca have become quite disheartened at the vacillating action of the Government. The pioneers of the Sauce were promised free grants, but now cannot get the land even on purchase. Many are preparing to leave the place. So great was the panic after the invasion that one native merchant sold a flock of fine mestiza sheep at 15 reals and our informant states that so disgusted are the foreigners that notwithstanding the advance in produce many would be glad to dispose at the same price.

The Odessa estancia auction comes off on next Sunday, and it is to be hoped there will be a large attendance, as the property is one of the most valuable in the country. It will be sold without reserve to liquidate the business, by order of the Court.

The third half-yearly meeting of the City of Buenos Ayres Tramway Company was held at the offices, on October 13th, Mr. B. Isaac in the chair. The chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, expressed his regret that the results obtained had not been quite so satisfactory as the directors had anticipated would be the case when they met the shareholders on the last occasion. It arose from circumstances not only over which the directors had no control, but which they could not by any possibility foresee, and those were the yellow fever and the visitation of locusts. At the last meeting the attention of the shareholders was called to some new concessions; he was happy to say that not only was progress being made, but one portion, along Calle Corrientes, was finished, and working satisfactorily. In view of the extra work of the local committee, and in order to relieve the committee, and also to organise the works over there in a more satisfactory manner, the directors had, through the medium of one of the largest shareholders (who happened to be in New York, and had taken a great interest in the company's affairs from the commencement), engaged a most experienced gentleman to go out to Buenos Ayres to assist the present manager. The gentleman would shortly sail from New York—if, indeed, he had not already done so—and the directors expected very advantageous results from the appointment. His own belief was that before long they would return to the average traffic of January last. Mr. Spencer Herapath seconded the resolution, and said that, on looking at the traffic returns for the six months to which the accounts applied, he noticed that the month of January alone showed a profit of £1,500, whilst the disposable balance for six months was £2,508. Therefore, more than half the profit was made in the month of January, and it showed how seriously the traffic had been affected by the yellow fever in the latter months of the half-year. The resolution was carried unanimously, and an interim dividend for the half-year ending June last of 3s. per share on the fully paid-up shares (being at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum), free of income-tax, was declared.

The wool market this morning is not to say flat but full. Both Plazas are crowded with wool Mr. Burmeister sold in the South Market 1,000 arrobas at 76. The sales in the North Plaza were as follows:—

2000 arr wool	81
4000 do	80
3000 do	78
12000 do	77
6000 do	73 to 79

About 18,000 arr sent into deposit.
Most of the growers demand from $80 to $85.

SO Insidious are the First approaches of Consumption, that thousands remain unconscious of its presence until it has brought them to the verge of the grave. An immediate resort to Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant, upon the first appearance of the Cough, Pain, or Soreness of the Throat or Chest, would very generally preclude a fatal result, or, in case the symptoms indicate the presence of Latent Consumption, would tend to subdue the violence of the disease, and thus materially assist in pro'onging the life of the patient. Use the Expectarant, therefore, when you take a Cold, and thus prevent the necessity for its use in more dangerous complaints. Sold everywhere.

—OLD SAYING.

READER, does your Coat fit? What about the sleeves, the creases on the chest, and that ugly hump on the back. I see by the nervous twitch at the collar that it raises your choler. Sir, I fear you have bought a ready-made coat. No; you left your measure with Mons. Snipini, the Franco-Italiano. Sir, I must say severely, with Mr. Podsnap, your dress is not English. French tailoring for Frenchmen, 'bueno;' it is well adapted for small men with short necks, round shoulders, and bow legs, but English tailoring for Englishmen. It enobles and dignifies, no matter in what disastrous position he may have come to grief, breaking a leg or putting a shoulder out, or a Transandian or Chacho sun may have bronzed or blackened him, but once in the hands of a clever English tailor, like Byron's 'deformed' he becomes transformed, enobled, and beautified by the genius of British Tailoring.
The three Tooley-street Tailors were right when they spoke for the people of England. English Tailoring is the essence of England. The 'sentre' of England is the Woolsack that the Chancellor sits on. O'Connell once said, Ireland for Irishmen,' we may say, 'English tailoring for Englishmen.' Big men, with broad shoulders, who go in for the 'athletic,' sports, with heads erect, chest out, and shoulders back, walking the earth as if spurning it.
My friend, would you dress like an Englishman; yes, you mean to go to London for a supply of 'togs.' There is no occasion to go, for there is at present in Buenos Ayres a 'chiel' making coats, and 'faith he cuts them.'
Who happens to be the most celebrated Cutter of England? His name is Rodgers, of the Firm of Rodgers, Baker, and Co.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND Cc.
101--Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current we now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Maná & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following he noble example of their firm in Montevideo, ow offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes alerady mentioned, Sundays an holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to esch depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. p. (8) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds Twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishs can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
